

AWEBSA RULE 7 OF 2014: CLOSED CODED RINGS (WILD-TYPE AND EXHIBITION BUDGIES)

R7.1 INTRODUCTION

The breeding and exhibition of budgies mean that their identification and bloodlines are important. Exhibiting and gaining points towards promotion in the exhibition category of budgies, for example, Champion of Section, Provincial Champion and AWEBSA Grand Champion mean the linking of birds to the rightful owner is essential.

Similar motivation applies to those members breeding wild-type budgies. Closed rung birds improve record keeping, the breeding of mutations, establishing the age of birds and therefore most likely the marketability and value of surplus stock.

AWEBSA encourages all persons breeding budgies to become members of the Association and to purchase rings from the Association via the AWEBSA Ring Coordinator on the approved ring order form.

R7.2 GENERAL

R7.2.1 From the 2020 show season when wild-type budgies are exhibited for points and recognition on AWEBSA National Championship Shows they must wear the correct size closed coded ring of the member.

R7.2.2 Members can exhibit wild-types that are not rung at Provincial shows.

R7.2.3 The Association has the following types of rings available:

R7.2.3.1 Plastic closed coded rings for Exhibition budgies (4.3 mm); and

R7.2.3.2 Plastic closed coded rings for wild-type budgies (3.5 mm).

R7.2.4 Should a member wish to change from one category to another, or breed and exhibit both, the member must retain his/her ring code but the correct size closed coded ring must be used according to the type of budgie being rung. See R7.2.3 above.

- R7.2.8 Rings of exhibits winning awards (both Exhibition and Wild-Type), as applicable, will be checked, recorded and ownership verified.

- R7.2.10 Using or permitting the use of closed coded rings purchased from the Association at any establishment other than at a bona fide address of the member, or in the case of a partnership at a bona fide address of any of the members of that partnership, is strictly forbidden.
